About Community First Yorkshire News

Community First Yorkshire News provides information to voluntary organisations and local public sector agencies about funding sources, legal updates, policy changes, and new services, as well as circulating our monthly newsletters.

Advertising opportunities

Most of the information on Community First Yorkshire News information service is circulated free of charge.

However, we do charge variable rates for job adverts depending on whether you are a private organisation/individual, a voluntary, community or social enterprise organisation or a local public sector organisation.

What we advertise

We are happy to advertise:

- Job vacancies
- Trustee vacancies
- Volunteer roles

We have a policy not to advertise fundraising events as there are so many taking place that it would flood our news service.

We are able to promote some external events that are appropriate to the voluntary sector but are limited regarding space. The decision to promote an event will be at the Editor's discretion.

As pointed out above, there are different charges depending on the type of organisation / service you represent.
